When the Snoozer Sneezed.

Some comic stunts were pulled in the drunks' parade on Main St. Saturday evening. One chap who was headed north for an eating house, dropped out of the parade in front of a store in Block 3. He had stopped to sneeze; sneezed, and sneezed himself off the pavement into the gutter; got turned round in picking himself up; went up to the Bank corner and inquired, when he seen no lights in the window, why Christie's was closed so early.

Tuckson—Guenette.

On Saturday, Nov. 9th, a pretty wedding was celebrated at St. Joseph's Church, when Miss Luella Mary Guenette (daughter of Mr and Mrs Edward Guenette) was united in marriage to Mr G P Tuckson (son of Mr Henry Tuckson, Edmonton). The ceremony was performed by Rev Father Keenan, with Rev Father Leamy assisting in the sanctuary. Many friends and relatives of the young couple were present to extend best wishes and congratulations. Mr and Mrs Tuckson will reside in Edmonton.

Mosimann—Leuenberger.

The marriage took place on Friday last, Nov. 8th, at the Glory Hills Reform Church of Miss Gertrude Leuenberger to Mr Ernest Mosimann. Mr Mosimann is a native of Switzerland and has been in Alberta a year and a half, and at present is located on a farm near Duffield. The bride arrived a short time ago from Canton Berne, Switzerland.

The Problem of Narcotics

The evil of narcotics is one that strikes both directly and indirectly at the home.

There are about 8,000 drug addicts, or dope fiends, as they are more commonly called, in Canada. They consume, and here is an even more startling figure, about $30,000 worth of drugs every day.

The danger from the widespread use of narcotics in Canada, is that drug addicts breed drug addicts; each one is an agency of evil who will try to pull other victims into the mire in which he finds himself.

The four main drugs that have assailed Canada are opium, morphine, cocaine and heroin. Opium is the juice of the white poppy, cultivated mainly in Hindustan and Asiatic Turkey, and thickened by evaporation.

Opium would not be so important to us, but for the fact that other drugs that are used most extensively in Canada, come from opium.

About one hundred and twenty-five years ago, a French chemist found that he could produce another drug, morphine, which was named after the god of sleep, Morpheus, from opium.

Sixty-five years later another chemist, this one an Austrian, found by experimenting with coca leaves that he could produce cocaine.

Just thirty years ago, a German chemist found he could take from opium still another drug, which was called heroin. It is three or four times stronger than morphine, and is blamed largely for the increase in drug usage on this continent since the war. At first heroin was not believed to be habit-forming, and was used on that assumption. But two years after its discovery, it was found to be as bad, if not worse, in getting a grip on its victim. It has been renounced by the medical profession as not at all necessary for their purpose. But it continues in use throughout the world, a dangerous drug, without any redeeming feature or excuse for its existence.

All these three drugs, morphine, cocaine and heroin, are white powders, bitter to the taste and soluble in water. All are deleterious, both mentally and physically. The habitual use of any of them will bring death with inexorable certainty. Opium is the slowest to kill, morphine, the next, while heroin is the most rapid of all.

For example, to compare the drug habit with the liquor habit; five ounces of alcohol is considered a fatal dose. Five ounces of morphine taken at one time will kill fifteen hundred men.

Chemistry has given us these drugs, and passed them on to the medical profession. The doctors used them, with the exception of heroin, to assuage pain. But mankind was not satisfied with that, and the use of these drugs spread to people who did not need them. Now the combined wisdom of agriculture, medicine, and governments, is not sufficient to strike down the perils.

There are fantastic stories at times of people who have become drug addicts because they were given one of these drugs in a time of need, and that one administration made them addicts. Those are very rare cases, and hardly need to be taken into consideration. The use of drugs is spread about almost entirely by people who profit greatly by creating other addicts.

Thousands of tons of poisonous drugs are consumed every year by the human race. Less than one per cent. of the total consumption is necessary for medicinal purposes.

Before heroin came into such general use, adults were, in the main, the only addicts. The dealers in heroin, however, recruit among their customers young children. The average age of the heroin addict is about 22 years of age, which means that he must have become addicted some years before he was twenty.

Again to compare the drug habit with the liquor habit: It takes some time of regular drinking before a youth becomes a regular drunkard. Not so with heroin. An ounce of heroin can make two thousand addicts within a week. As well as that, a drunkard sometimes serves as a useful example with which to point the warning finger. In fact a drunkard is a general rule, but advise others to keep away from the stimulant that caused his downfall. Not so the heroin addict. He begins right away to drag others into the net. He is used as a recruiting agent for the operators who are making the money. The more heroin he gets, the more he craves. He is told that in order to get more of it, he must introduce more customers. And so the peril spreads.

When Pain Comes

What many people call indigestion is very often excessive acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sits there. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians to the 50 years since its invention. One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use drastic methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excessive acids. ### Fighting Forest Fires At Night

Miner's Carbide Lamp. Used By Rangers in Work of Extinguishing Fires

Equipment is now in use by the Forest Service, Department of the Interior, which enables rangers to fight forest fires at night when such work is most valuable, owing to the fires dying down at dark. The chief item of special equipment is the miner's carbide lamp, which is attached to the fire-fighter's cap and so is located just above his forehead. This leaves his hands free to work, and gives the light just where desired, both for travel in reaching the fire and for the work of extinguishing the fire.

WOMEN WHO SUFFER

Anemia Responsible For Most Of the Ills Of Girls and Women

Medical science shows that most of the ills that afflict growing girls and women are due to the fact that the blood is either poor in quality or deficient in quantity. This anemia is the cause of low spirits, languidness, the poor appetite, breathlessness, and the aching back that make life a burden for so many women. There is no need for any woman to suffer in this way, for all the miseries of anemia can be quickly banished by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It is an established fact that these pills create an abundance of new rich blood—their wonderful reputation is based on this.

Thousands of formerly weak and ailing women have cheerfully testified to the fact that they owe their restoration to good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. One of these is Mrs. Napoleon Calant, Tyrone, P.E.I., who says: "I am among those who can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Before I began using them I was in an extremely nervous condition. I could not sleep, neither could I eat, and was constantly growing weaker. I got medicine from a doctor, but it did not seem to meet my condition, and then, on the recommendation of a friend, I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. By the time I had taken a couple of boxes there was no doubt they were helping me. I continued their use until I had taken six or seven boxes when I was again in the best of health. I always keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the house, and if any member of the family feels run-down the pills soon put them in good condition."

The best time to begin taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the moment you feel the least bit out of sorts. The sooner you do so the sooner you will regain your old-time energy. You can take these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail postpaid, at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Power Of Sound Waves

If Highly Pitched They Will Do Much Damage

Living creatures can be struck dead by sound waves too highly pitched for the human ear to hear them, writes T. C. Bridges. These high frequency waves—called super-sonics—have been tried on animals and produced instant death. The sound appears to shatter the blood corpuscles, and death is as sure and sudden as if the creatures had been struck by lightning. Sound can do many things which seem mysterious and almost miraculous. For instance, fire can be extinguished by sound. Some little time ago Mr. Charles Kellogg, of California, gave a demonstration of the power of sound over flame, and by drawing a violin bow across a piece of aluminum extinguished a burning gas jet at fifty feet. Sound vibrations can not only break a window glass but can damage a building. It is suspected that the deep, vibrating notes of organs can cause vibrations which may actually weaken the structure of a church of cathedral. The very latest wonder of sound is to make an aeroplane light up the aerodrome at which it is arriving merely by a note of its siren. This was done recently at Newark, New Jersey.

Joint Branch Line

Programme Announced

Thornton and Beatty Publish Plans For Alberta Railways

Announcement has been made jointly by Sir Henry Thornton and E. W. Beatty, of the branch line programme to be commenced in 1930 by the Northern Alberta railways. The presidents of the two transcontinental systems, which jointly own the Alberta railways, point out that under the agreement for acquisition the purchasers undertook to build within five years sixty miles of branch lines, in addition to the branches under construction by the government of Alberta at the time the purchase was made.

To meet the traffic needs of the district, and in fulfillment of statements previously made, the directors of the Northern Alberta railways have, therefore, decided to recommend to the government and to the directors of the Canadian Pacific, the commencement in 1930 of a line from Hythe to Rola, a distance of fifty miles, and from Fairview westerly, a distance of 15 miles. In addition, the Northern Alberta railways will, during the coming year, undertake to investigate the traffic possibilities of an extension west from Spirit River and from a point at or near Grimshaw, to serve the Battle River district in which considerable settlement has taken place.

The programme announced is of considerable magnitude and confirms the statement already issued that in the opinion of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific companies, the most important and immediate work in the development of the Peace River area is the construction of branch line mileage.

Canadian Fliers Organize

First Convention Of Its Kind Held At Fort William

With nearly 20 delegates from coast to coast in attendance, the first all-Canada aviation convention was held recently at Fort William. J. A. Sully, president of the Winnipeg Flying Club, was chosen chairman of the initial meeting.

The first business of the convention was the organization of a central body of the flying clubs throughout the Dominion, to be known officially as the "Canadian Flying Club Association." This association will be official spokesman of the various clubs throughout the Dominion, and will attempt to solve many of the problems which today face aviators from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Delegates from the several clubs will be known as the Board of Governors and this body annually will choose a president, five vice-presidents, one honorary secretary and an honorary treasurer. The vice-presidents will be regional officers, from the following districts:

British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Thunder Bay district, Ontario east of Thunder Bay and Quebec and the Maritimes.

Reason Prince Sold Hunters

When the Prince of Wales abandoned fox hunting and sold his horses this year, he did so not for his own personal safety, as was generally believed, but because the prohibition of fox hunting was about to come before Parliament and the heir to the throne must not become involved in any political issue.

Needless Pain!

The man who wouldn't drive his motorcar half a mile when it's out of order, will often drive his brain all day with a head that's throbbing.

Such punishment isn't very good for one's nerves. It's unwise, and it's unnecessary. For a tablet or two of Aspirin will relieve a headache every time. So, remember this accepted antidote for pain, and spare yourself a lot of needless suffering. Read the proven directions and you'll discover many valuable uses for these tablets. For headaches; to check colds. To ease a sore throat and reduce the infection. For relieving neuritis, neuralgia, rheumatic pain.

People used to wonder if Aspirin might be harmful. The doctors answered that question years ago.

League of Nations Society Accomplishing Good Work, But Handicapped By Lack of Funds

With the visit of Rt. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald to the United States and Canada, and the momentous decisions which will result from this visit public attention has been concentrated on the subject of world peace.

In considering this subject much credit is given to the League of Nations, in Geneva, and the great work it is doing. This is only right and the more the ideals of the League are brought before the public, the more likely it is that still further practical results will follow its efforts. But in Canada and elsewhere it is only fair that some credit should come to the home societies which are actively propagating League ideals in their several countries.

In Canada there has existed for some nine years an organization well and favorably known as the League of Nations Society of Canada. Handicapped by lack of funds, by comparative public indifference and an inadequate staff, it has continuously attempted to be an influence for good in all parts of the country and to zealously battle for the ideals for which it was founded.

Through the co-operation of the press of Canada, whose leading executives recognize the importance of its campaign, some publicity has been given to the yearly effort of this organization to increase its membership, but we feel that more continuous co-operation both by press and public would be most opportune at the present time.

Geneva is far away, and many of the issues with which it deals are too complicated for the average man to read with understanding. No organization is more in need of domestic interpretation, and that work is being carried out with praiseworthy diligence.

It is not too much to say that such an organization would be a fit subject for a perpetual endowment which would relieve it of the necessity of canvassing for the comparatively small sum which it requires to carry on its immensely valuable work.—The Fredericton Daily Mail.

Western Horses Go East

Shipment of 18 Animals Sent From Moose Jaw To New Brunswick.

In order to try out the market for certain types of horses in New Brunswick, a shipment of 18 animals was consigned from Moose Jaw to the Maritime Province by the Saskatchewan Livestock Pool and the Department of Agriculture. Under the arrangements entered into between the Livestock Pool and the Federal and Provincial Governments, the Pool assembles the shipments and the two Governments assist in promoting the sale of the horses. Larger shipments are to be made in the near future.

No Introduction Needed

Canadians Are Welcomed At Any International Gathering

Canada is the most promising country in the world, in the estimation of the statesmen assembled for the League of Nations council, Hon. J. C. Elliott, Minister of Public Works, stated on his return to Ottawa from Europe. To have come from Canada is a first class introduction in any international gathering, he said. Mr. Elliott was one of the Canadian delegates at Geneva this autumn.

Imperial Farmers' Union

Federation To Encourage the Consumption of Empire Products

The National Farmers' Union of Scotland have prepared the formation of an Imperial Farmers' Union or Federation to encourage the consumption of Empire products, to eliminate competition between different parts of the Empire, to stabilize quantities and prices, to control surpluses and other similar objects.

As this was in line with the policy of the United Farmers' of Canada, Saskatchewan section, the matter was taken up by the executive of the organization at Saskatoon and the following resolution passed: "That in the opinion of the executive such affiliation could be made if we had a national organization in Canada or a co-ordinating agency, and that until such an organization is formed we endeavor to establish contact by way of correspondence and literature with the National Farmers' Union of Scotland."

In a letter received at the U.F.C. headquarters, the secretary of the Scottish union expressed surprise that farmers had no national organization in Canada, and hoped that it would be possible to co-ordinate the work of the various provincial organizations through a central executive which to begin with, might act in an advisory capacity.

Commenting on the proposal, Frank Ellason, secretary of the U.F.C., said: "Everywhere throughout the Empire there seems to be a move towards closer relationships in agriculture for the control of surpluses and for the stabilization of prices and thus place agriculture on a sound business basis. The U.F.C. administration is anxious to develop this movement and will do all they can to bring about a co-ordination of the provincial organizations as they realize more than ever before that farm products must be controlled by the farmers themselves in order to stabilize prices on a basis that will make agriculture prosperous."

Canada's New Northwest

John M. Imrie Tells Easterners Of Development In The West

Speaking at a joint dinner of the Canadian and Rotary clubs at Sherbrooke, Que., John M. Imrie, managing editor of the Edmonton Journal, described what he calls "Canada's New Northwest" and told of the active progress of that section of the Dominion, stretching northwest of Lake Superior, and basic causes of the new movement—the lure of mineral wealth as well as agricultural development.

"It has to do with new discoveries of oil and gas," said Mr. Imrie, "with new trade routes and new foreign markets, and with economic changes that are making for decentralization of industry."

Seed Oats To Be Supplied

Farmers In Saskatchewan Dry Areas Should Order Early

That arrangements were made some time ago for the purchasing of seed oats for farmers in the drought affected districts of Saskatchewan, is announced by Hon. W. C. Buckle, Minister of Agriculture, who stated that a considerable portion of the oats required for this purpose have already been bought and deliveries are being made to the Canadian Government Elevator, at Moose Jaw. R. M. Johnson, of Pasqua, acting as seed purchasing commissioner, has represented the government in these transactions, but is not purchasing fodder as has been reported in the press.

Investigation reveals the fact that while there is in Saskatchewan a sufficient quantity of oats to meet feed requirements, there does not appear to be sufficient seed oats, consequently purchases have been made in the province of Alberta in addition to those which have been and are being purchased in Saskatchewan.

The Department of Agriculture is receiving offers of seed oats grown in Saskatchewan and is making selections from these of quantities suitable for seed purposes. It is not expected that there will be any difficulty in getting a sufficient supply of seed oats if oats which are suitable for seed are used for that purpose instead of for fodder. It is also expected that prices to farmers in the affected areas will be within reasonable bounds for grades No. 1 and No. 2 seed. The department will be in a position shortly to fill orders for carloads of seed oats purchased by rural municipalities.

The minister stated also that in his opinion it would be well for farmers to make arrangements at an early date to provide for their seed supply in order to avoid possible disappointment.

Spoiled The Show

The Dramatic Society was presenting an historical play, and one of the newly enrolled members had been assigned a part with exactly one line to speak. He was the headman, and arrayed in all the glory of black tights and mask, he strode on to the centre of the stage and announced: "My lord, my lord, I have beheld the maid!"

"Oh, you 'ave, 'ave you?" retorted another small-part man in the guise of the cruel king. "Well, allow me to tell you that you've messed up the 'ole blooming show. You've been and done it two acts too soon."

Jap Diplomats Land

"The destinies of Canada and Japan lie together in the great Pacific Ocean," declared Hon. Iyemasa Tokugawa, K.C.V.O., first minister to represent the Emperor of Japan in Canada, when he reached the Dominion on board Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of France" at Vancouver, recently. With him is photographed Togo Fukuma, Japanese Consul-General. Mr. Tokugawa is the son of Prince Iyemasa Tokugawa, and a man of long experience in diplomacy. He was on his way to Ottawa to present his credentials to the Canadian Government from the Japanese Emperor.

Details of the projected trans-Atlantic air service from Canada to England via Greenland, are contained in information received by the Civil Aviation Branch of the Department of National Defence, at Ottawa.

The scheme, which calls for an elaborate outlay of airports and radio beacons from Winnipeg to Baker Lake, and from Baker Lake to Cape Dyer, in Canada, is advanced by Warren Scholl, a consulting engineer from Chicago, who is now staying in Winnipeg.

Mr. Scholl is seeking to promote the scheme, which calls for a daily service between Chicago and Croydon, using Winnipeg as the main stopping point on this continent. He plans to operate a shuttle service between New York and Winnipeg, as well as between the western city and other important population centres.

From Cape Dyer it is planned that planes should fly to Southern Greenland where an airport would be established on the level surface of the ice cap. From Greenland, planes would fly to Iceland, to the Faroe Islands, and over Ireland to Croydon.

Mr. Scholl is seeking to organize three separate companies, one in the United States, one in Canada, and the third in Great Britain, which would bear the cost of the whole scheme between them.

His plan calls for the floating of separate loans in each country and for the exchange of blocks of stock between the three countries involved, so that profit and loss would be equally distributed.

Planes used in the service would be amphibians, of all-metal construction. Pilots would be guided over the entire route by radio beacons, which, Mr. Scholl thinks, would defeat the hazards of bad weather flying. Super-sensitive altimeters would enable pilots to make blind landings with an accuracy of four feet, considered by authorities to be a safe margin. The route would not be lighted, although airports would be equipped with the most modern of lighting equipment.

Revenue would be derived through the carrying of passengers, mail and express. The machines would have a capacity of not more than 20 passengers, while a system of deferred express rates, something like cable rates, would be instituted to make up pay loads on days when the passenger quota was small.

Where the Rain Goes

Experiments Show Largest Amount Returns To Atmosphere Through Evaporation

Where does the rain go? A three-year study by the United States Geological Survey has answered this question. The Pomperaug Basin, in Connecticut, which is believed to be typical of the country at large, was given intensive study. The results, says Popular Science Monthly, showed that of the annual rainfall of 44 inches, 21 inches flow out through streams. The other 23 inches return to the atmosphere. Evaporation from the soil, from water surfaces, and from the leaves of trees account for these tons of moisture that enter the air.

The London papers say that the Prince of Wales is planning to return to Africa to finish the tour which was so suddenly interrupted last year by the serious illness of King George.

Legal difficulties in the way of purchasing by the Prince of Wales, of a section of school lands in Alberta as part of the E.P. Ranch have been set aside as a result of an order-in-council officially published in the Canadian Gazette.

The title of the forthcoming book of Georges Clemenceau, former French premier, on which he has worked so hard during his recent illness is, "Grandeur and Misery of a Victory."

To safeguard the child from damage that worms cause, use Miller's Worm Powders, the medicine par excellence for children. These powders will clear the system entirely of worms, will regulate and stimulate the organs injuriously affected by the worms, and will encourage healthy operation of the digestive processes. As a vermifuge it can be relied on for its effectiveness.

Concerning the use of the Tablets Mrs. Donat Plouffe, Tragicville, Que., writes:—"I have nothing but praise for Baby's Own Tablets. I feel so safe with the Tablets that I always keep a box in the house."

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and thus banish constipation, and indigestion; break up colds and simple fever and make the cutting of teeth painless. The Tablets are absolutely safe, being guaranteed free from all injurious drugs. They are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Crossed River On Skis
Vienna Men Claim Speed Of Twelve Miles An Hour

A most amusing spectacle recently greeted the spectators on the London Embankment, when, without any warning, they suddenly came across two men, clad in bathing suits, attempting to cross the Thames by means of water skis. It did not take many minutes for a wondering crowd to collect, and then, urged on by cheers and laughter, the two men, Student Franz Hirsch and Professor Michael Mitter, both from Vienna, set off on their journey across the river and back.

The skis were made of basket-wood frames, and covered with waterproof. The wearer carries a small paddle with which he propels himself along. Apparently they answer their purpose well, and the two wearers claimed that they had achieved up to twelve miles per hour on the river Danube.

Precision In Levelling

Only Slight Error Made In Running Line Of Levels 3,647 Miles

In a line of precise levels run across the continent from mean sea level on the Atlantic to mean sea level on the Pacific, the engineers of the Geodetic Survey of Canada obtained an apparent difference of elevation of only about six inches. On the assumption that the mean sea levels of the two oceans are about the same, this indicates that only the above slight error was made in running a line of levels 3,647 miles in length.

An Oil That Is Prized Everywhere.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil was put upon the market without any flourish over fifty years ago. It was put up to meet the wants of a small section, but as soon as its merits became known it had a whole continent for a field, and it is now known and prized throughout this continent. There is nothing equal to it.

The shoes in addition to being washable, will be much lighter and more comfortable than leather, exhibitors said. They are made of sudanette and sudanette faille—new cotton fabrics—and will have heels built on thin leather soles. The uppers, pastel shades, will be bordered with a fringe of beaurval embroidery.

Golden Text: "Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons; but in every nation he that feareth Him, and worketh righteousness, is acceptable to Him."—Acts 10:34, 35.
Lesson: Ruth 1:1-18; John 4:1-10; Acts 10:1 to 11:18; Romans 1:25-29.
Devotional Reading: Ephesians 3:14-21.

Explanations and Comments

Racial Prejudices Must Be Overcome. Acts 10:1-18.—There was a Roman centurion at Caesarea, Cornelius by name, a very devout man who feared God, and was generous with the poor. One day in a vision he seemed to hear an angel saying to him: "Thy prayers and thine alms have gone up for a memorial before God," and bidding him send to Joppa for a man named Peter. At once Cornelius sent two of his servants in search of Peter. Joppa was on the seacoast thirty miles west of Jerusalem.

On the morrow as the servants went from Joppa, Peter went up on the housetop to pray. He was hungry and while waiting for food to be prepared, he fell into a trance, and in it all manner of four-footed beasts and creeping things and birds, and he heard a voice bidding him kill and eat. "Not so, Lord, I have never eaten anything that is common or unclean," Peter exclaimed, horrified. Peter had strictly observed the Levitical law which prescribed what animals could be eaten and how they should be slaughtered.

God Is No Respector Of Persons, Acts 10:17-35.—While Peter was pondering the meaning of the vision, the messengers sent by Cornelius arrived. Peter called them in and lodged them over night, putting at once into practice his understanding of the vision, for they were men of another race, whom once he would have called unclean. The day following Peter went with the messengers to the home of Cornelius. He took the precaution to take with him six brethren, for he felt he was doing a venturesome thing and he wanted witnesses. Cornelius was on the seacoast thirty miles from Joppa. On reaching there, he found Cornelius and many Gentile kinsmen and friends of the latter awaiting him. Cornelius told about the vision which had led him to send for the apostle, and added: "Now therefore we are all here present in the sight of God, to hear all things that have been commanded thee of the Lord."

"And Peter opened his mouth and said:" These words indicate the solemnity of the occasion and the weightiness of Peter's message: "God has no favorites, and he who reverences Him and lives a good life in any nation is welcomed by Him."—Moffatt's Translation.

For Detecting Icebergs

Method Perfected By Dr. Barnes Of McGill University

A method of detecting in fog or at night the proximity of icebergs at sea by recording the explosions as they disintegrate have been perfected by Dr. Howard T. Barnes, of McGill University, who has returned from a voyage of experiment off Newfoundland.

Attempts were made with a marine microphone to pick up the sounds of the explosions of the icebergs as they broke in the warmer water, but nothing was heard.

Then an improvised microphone, consisting of a rubber hose with a funnel attached to one end and a sheet rubber placed over it to make it waterproof, was used. It was ascertained that the explosions could be recorded up to a distance of six miles.

Articles are already appearing in daily papers on how to conquer "autumn depression." They follow quickly on tips for overcoming summer slackness. ## RELATIONS WITH RUSSIA RESTORED BY LABOR PARTY

London, Eng.—Full diplomatic relations are to be restored between Great Britain and Russia.

By a vote of 324 to 199 the House of Commons have approved the government's motion for resumption of such relations and at the same time rejected a Conservative amendment which had condemned any resumption until the preliminary conditions have been satisfied. There were stipulations in regard to Soviet propaganda.

The decision regarding Russia capped a full day in both the House of Commons and the House of Lords, for the upper chamber was occupied with the latest development in the Indian constitutional problem. Such a day is not often experienced, even at Westminster.

The Commons began eagerly, expecting Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's report of his mission to the United States, and his subsequent visit to Canada. Scarcely had Mr. MacDonald concluded, when the House of Lords began a debate on the "mystery of the proclamation by Lord Irwin, viceroy of India, which affirmed the British Government's desire to accord full dominion status to India in the fullness of time."

The doom of the Conservative amendment regarding relations with Russia was speedily sounded in the House of Commons by Right Hon. David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, who within the balance of power, Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin had charged Right Hon. Arthur Henderson, foreign secretary, with "surrendering" to the Soviet representative in the negotiations leading to resumption of relations. Mr. Henderson denied there had been any surrender.

The foreign secretary stressed that under the new protocol, the governments of Great Britain and Russia would reciprocally confirm the pledge in regard to propaganda immediately the actual exchange of ambassadors took place.

Mr. Lloyd George then indicated the Liberal attitude by describing the break in relations with Russia initiated by the former Conservative Government, when Asquith House, in London, was raided "as an act of supreme silliness." He concluded "I say God speed the foreign secretary."

Several Conservatives supported the Labor Government in the division. These included Lady Astor, John Buchanan (noted novelist), and Robert Boothby, member for Eastern Aberdeen and Kincardine.

The vote approving the government's motion for restoration of relations, marked the first definite accomplishment of Mr. MacDonald's government since other negotiations in the foreign fields, as well as schemes for relief of domestic unemployment, have yet to be submitted for parliamentary approval.

Not a single division had expressed opposition to the policy which had been pursued, declared Mr. Henderson. Replies received by the government, indicated it was generally recognized that the renewal of relations sooner or later was inevitable.

Coming To Canada

Thousands Of Mennonites Would Leave Russia For This Dominion

Moscow.—Three thousand Siberian peasants of German descent, mostly Mennonites, have received passports to migrate to Canada. Before granting the passports the Soviet authorities exacted full payment of taxes and specified that the emigrants deposit all their possessions in Soviet banks, since exportation of rubles is forbidden.

Seven thousand of the would-be emigrants are concentrated in camps around Moscow obtaining passports at the rate of 100 per day.

Walker Again Mayor Of N.Y.

New York.—Mayor James Walker, more familiarly known as "Jimmy" to the millions of the metropolis, was swept into office again for another four years on the crest of a Democratic tidal wave of great proportions. He defeated Congressman Florence H. LaGuardia, candidate of the Republicans and Fusionists, by a plurality of 497,165.

India Favors Idea Of Dominion Status

British Viceroy's Declaration Has Removed Tension From Politics

New Delhi, India.—Opinion in India has now crystallized into definite comment on the Viceroy's historic declaration of November 1, making it clear that the favorable response in wider than might have been expected. The Viceroy's affirmation of the British government's desire that India should attain dominion status in the fullness of time, and pointing out a conference should be held in London to clear up relations between British India and the native states of India, is described as removing with one bold stroke all the electric tension from Indian politics.

Anglo-Indian newspapers not only were the first to describe the announcement as wise, but they also resented the opposition voiced in the British press. Both progressive and press opinion is being modelled on the lines of the statement issued by 30 members of the Indian Nationalist Congress and other leaders, including Mr. Gandhi, great upholder of Indian nationalism. This statement gives conditional acceptance, suggesting a livelier spirit should be infused into the government of the country until a new constitution for India actually comes into existence.

The depressed masses and Indian Christians welcome the Viceroy's announcement and ask that their interests be protected at the conference.

Dog Rescues

Wounded Trapper

Carried Note To Nearest Camp And Returned With Help

Nakina, Ont.—Once again a man owes his life to the intelligence and faithfulness of a dog. Andrew Syvitski, 22, accidentally shot himself when he drew a revolver from his holster while hunting at an isolated camp at Pine Lake.

Realizing his predicament and knowing that he could not reach the nearest trapper's cabin himself, Syvitski scribbled a note and fastening it to his dog's collar, ordered the animal to proceed to the nearest camp, owned by Thomas Hughes.

The dog ran through three miles of bush and swam a river to reach Hughes' cabin.

Hughes, with the animal leading the way, reached Syvitski's camp and after rendering first aid, brought the man to his own camp. A railway speeder brought the wounded man to Nakina, and he was later rushed to Port Arthur by train.

Cheers Greet Premier

MacDonald Receives Hearty Welcome From Members Of House

London, Eng.—Taking his place on the front bench of the House of Commons for the first time since his return from his notable visit to America, Premier MacDonald was greeted with loud cheers from the members. Many of them rose to their feet and waved their order papers in salute.

Mr. MacDonald, resuming the leadership of the government in the Commons found a packed a house awaiting what promises to be a highly important utterance on unemployment from Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal and Minister of Employment.

This is an issue that friends and foes of labor are watching with the keenest attention and the government's handling of it has vital bearing on its fate.

Americans Settling In Saskatchewan

Many Farmers Coming To Make Homes In Canada

North Portal, Sask.—Despite the wintry weather, settlers from the United States are coming to Western Canada. During the past few days six carloads of stock and effects have cleared customs at this port. Alfred Hakenason shipped two cars from Wendell, Minn., to Aneroid, Sask., where had farmed for some years, but a year ago returned to Minnesota and started in poultry and dairy farming. The call of the broad prairies was too strong.

Frank McKnight, also a Canadian many years ago, shipped two cars from Noley, Mont., to Leslie, Sask., where he is renting land from a brother. While in the Soo yards at Portal, N.D., Mr. McKnight was struck by a freight engine, his leg being injured so that he had to be taken to a hospital for treatment. His stock and effects were looked after by Clarence Reed, who was a neighbor in Montana and who also is immigrating to Leslie, Sask., with a car of stock. Mr. McKnight was able to leave the hospital later and left for Leslie on a passenger train.

L. Matzdorf, from Burlington, N. D., shipped a car to Hythe, Alta., where he has taken a homestead.

TWO GREAT PREMIERS MEET

Aviators Killed In Montreal

Scapline Of Canadian Government Crashed While Being Tested

Montreal.—Pilot Officer Paul Garon Stanley, 23, of Toronto, and flying Officer John L. McLaughlin, 35, of Montreal, were almost instantly killed when a Canadian Vickers "Vedette" seaplane which they were testing for the Canadian government crashed in a field near Sault Aux Roches. The plane buried its nose in the soft surface of the field and by the time the two airmen were released they were dead, crushed in the wreckage.

McLaughlin was a test inspector and Stanley was flying the seaplane. They had made a previous test flight early in the day but the weather conditions were not suitable for flying and a second flight was attempted in the afternoon. It was believed that the machine had gone into a spin at a time when, owing to the low "ceiling" the pilot was unable to recover before reaching the ground.

Take Money and Food From Peasants

Families Migrating From Germany Deprived Of Everything Is Report

New York.—The following wireless from Kiel, Germany, was published in the New York Times:

"Fifty-three peasant families comprising 323 persons, whose ancestors migrated from Germany to Russia under Catherine the Great, and who, together with about 5,000 other peasants, desired to migrate to Canada, arrived here aboard the Soviet steamer 'Poliz Derzhinski,' without money or food."

"According to their own statement they were searched bodily before sailing and deprived of all money and food."

"It is rumored the Canadian government has already agreed to pay for their transportation to Canada and to provide the peasants with agricultural tools and other necessities."

Predicts Era Of Disease

New York Physician Says Slim Conditions In Europe Unbelievable

New York.—Senator Royal S. Copeland, of New York, on his return from a twelve weeks' visit to Europe, said he never saw such abject poverty as in the slums of European cities. He said conditions in the poorer sections were almost unbelievable and predicted they would result in an era of disease. "This country," he said, "must guard itself against that by strict immigration regulations. The examination of aliens must be more thorough and there must be more men to do it."

Senator Copeland is a physician and a former commissioner of health in New York City.

PROBLEMS AWAIT NAVAL PARLEY IN JANUARY

Washington.—In the swing of time toward January and the five-power disarmament conference in London, the government here and officials of the state and navy departments are hard at work upon the case for the United States. While still the main Great Britain and the United States are agreed upon what status it is necessary for each to maintain in the much-discussed cruiser class, it has been emphasized here again and again that no satisfactory agreement may be arrived at without the assent of all the powers concerned, and it opens a wide field for research containing both technical and political elements.

Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson has been for some weeks past continually in touch with the general board of the navy and he and Under-Secretary of State Joseph P. Cotton, have also consulted frequently with President Hoover.

Ambassador Charles G. Dawes, a fourth member of the delegation, is expected to stay for some time at the White House, during his present visit here from London, an opportunity will be afforded them for complete canvassing of the whole position. President Hoover places large hope upon the London conference.

The chief problem as the situation is viewed from Washington, concerns the powers of France and Italy and Great Britain and geographically as situated in the Mediterranean.

First, France and Italy must arrive at an agreement upon parity, which they may do between themselves. But both France and Italy are opposed to the abolition of the submarine, favored by both Great Britain and the United States.

"The poor man's battleship" has an interesting significance in the Mediterranean wherein is one of the great trade routes of the British Empire. Another matter which receives attention here is the proposal of France that London results should be validated at Geneva—a suggestion which finds no favor in the United States.

Japan, it is indicated, would like to have her cruiser strength proportionately to the British and American fleets, making her seven to ten instead of as present.

Gives Report On Settlement

Canadian Congress Of Labor Has Idea To Absorb Immigration

Winnipeg.—Large scale development of unoccupied areas in Canada through agricultural and industrial development is recommended by the executive board of the all-Canadian Congress of Labor, in the board report submitted to the third annual convention. Such a plan, it is advanced, would absorb immigration to this country without detriment to the Dominion. The co-operative settlement idea advanced by the Labor Congress executive is stated to be based on a plan advanced by Rt. Hon. George Lansbury, M.P., first commissioner of works in the Labor government of Great Britain. Attention was directed to an interview with Mr. Lansbury published in a current edition of the Canadian Unionist, organ of the All-Canadian Congress of Labor.

The Singing Fool

By HUBERT DALL

SYNOPSIS

Al Stone, singing waiter at Blackie Joe's New York night club, is loved by Grace Farrell, the cigarette girl, but he does not know that. He marries Molly Winton, a ballad singer, and wins fame as a composer of popular songs. When their baby, Junior, is about two years old, Molly elopes with John Perry, Al's best friend, taking the child. Molly consents to a last farewell between Al and Junior which takes place at a park entrance. Al walks towards the center of the city, completely broken by his tragic loss. He plans to leave the Broadway night life and disappear. The lights of evening flick the sky.

CHAPTER XXI.

But, in order to live, Al knew he must create a new life for himself. The old life was closed. He felt himself entirely alien to night clubs and the whole Broadway life; if he wrote a song it would be no tragic and filled with path that no song-publisher or revue producer would want it. There was nothing for him to do but disappear from the old haunts.

In a few days, when he had pulled himself together, he would see Cline and collect on his share of the proceeds of the Club Bombs. Then—goodbye!

He had reached the end of the park, at 56th Street. How the city roared; the night life was beginning, the life of which he had been a living part only a short time ago. He glanced at his watch—almost six o'clock. They were ordering all the visitors ashore from the Ile de France; in a few moments the gang-plank would be lifted and the big floating hotel of a liner would pull slowly from the dock.

Days passed; and Broadway saw no more of Al Stone. Where had he gone? His friends asked Billy Cline, his former big partner, but Billy could not shake his head and say he didn't know. Marcus wanted Al to write some new numbers for a revue he had in rehearsal, but there was no Al to be found.

"What do you think's become of him?" asked Marcus of another song-writer.

"The river?" suggested the composer.

"No," Marcus shook his head vigorously. "I don't think Al would take his own life. He loves his boy too much. He lives like that boy—you see. He may slip terribly, but hope for his boy will keep him going somewhere, somehow. We can't tell—he may be perfectly all right; he may have gone on a world cruise to forget, or he may have gone to the western country for a while.

So the conjectures passed from mouth to mouth, up and down the White Way. But Al was still in New York, living in a cheap hotel, wearing shabby clothes, his money in the bank, forgotten. He was a shadow of his former self. He walked the streets by day and night, occasionally turning in to sleep. But always he stayed away from the fashionable streets and the Broadway section. He developed a terrible dread that he might meet some of his friends and he kept a constant, furtive lookout for familiar figures. If he saw one he quickly crossed the street, turned the corner and disappeared.

He was still searching desperately for a plan whereby he could rebuild his life on some new basis. But that could not be done, because he was definitely of the night club life. He had become a singing waiter while still in his teens—the cabaret life was the only one he understood. He could only wander—through the Ghetto, along the waterfront, through Little Italy. He made friends with odd characters—fish peddlers, park bums, odd Irish cabbies. But always he was drifting downward.

Then came the day when he happened to glance across the street and saw a face he knew. Surely that was Grace, who used to be a cigarette girl at Blackie Joe's place near the Village. As she stared intently at him Al dodged rapidly round the nearest corner.

Grace's eyes followed Al in astonishment as he hurried around the corner and disappeared. At her first glimpse of him she had not been sure of his identity. It was a year's time she had seen him and during that year he had almost become a different person in appearance. His lithe, self-confident walk was gone, his clothes were old and nondescript, his face was thinner and the cheerful kindly glow in his eyes had vanished. Nevertheless the man who stared at her in sudden recognition for a moment was Al—she was sure of it. She walked back to the corner and followed the direction he had taken. But either Al moved faster than she or he had darted up an alley, for she saw no sign of him. Thoughtfully she retraced her steps, her mood and expression sobered by the tragic implications of the sight she had just witnessed. So that was Al, bony, wise-cracking. Shrewd Al—the man who had been the hero of her girlhood three years ago, the man she had loved so devotedly! That was the youthful singing waiter whose rapid rise to fame had been due to the romances of Broadway and whose disappearance into obscurity had been one of the mysteries of the Street of Lights.

Grace had followed Al's career with the keenest attention from the start, time when he left Blackie's night club until recently. She knew every story of his triumphs, every version of his disastrous marriage, as they were gossiped about in cabaret circles, uptown and down, and as they appeared in newspapers and theatrical weeklies. For a year after Al left Blackie's her love for him had remained, first a throbbing recollection within her, then a faint murmur from the past.

But after he ceased to visit Blackie's and became so definitely a figure belonging to Broadway, this spirit of love became like the last note of an echo—it seemed to pass away lightly. Before that he had been a part of her life, afterward he was just a graceful and vague figure who had once stirred her as no man had been able to do since that time.

Grace had stayed on at Blackie Joe's. She had no scintillating talent to carry her to the peaks of Broadway success; she could not sing and dance professionally. She possessed a lovely and delicate beauty, unswerving loyalty, keen intuition, plain common-sense and a frank, unspiced nature. These qualities, while they may be among the most important in life, may not win fame for the persons who possess them.

Grace was obscure, but still she had scored her little successes. After Al was swallowed up by Broadway, Blackie Joe, himself, had kept a kindly eye on her and she was protected from the riff-raff among his customers. Soon he had promoted her from the job of cigarette girl and raised her salary. Now she was his assistant manager; she kept track of his accounts and checked the waiters when they carried food and drink to the customers.

Blackie had felt terribly sorry for Grace after Al went off to marry Molly—he was the only living person, with the exception of Grace herself, who had any conception of the deep love the former cigarette girl had for Al. Blackie often asked himself—Why on earth wasn't Al able to see that? When Blackie's read of Molly's desertion he nodded sadly.

Now, as Grace pursued her way, a flood of memories swept across her mind—Al as he used to look in his waiter clothes, Al as he had sung his first love ballad—"Always"—to Molly on the floor of Blackie's club, Al as she had once seen him at an uptown night club, resplendent in fine clothes, Al as she had seen his picture in the papers with Molly and his baby Junior.

Grace still recalled how the news of Junior's arrival had sent a stabbing throb through her heart that she did not understand. Then came an intense longing to see the baby that Al fathered. But that too was a faint memory—now.

It was afternoon and Grace was not due at Blackie's until evening. However, she wanted to tell the night club owner her news, so she changed her course and mounted the familiar, shabby steps. The main room was dark and deserted, but Blackie was in his office. He glanced up as Grace entered.

Send Mail By Rockets

Claimed That In Short Time Mail Will Be Carried By Rocket From Berlin To New York

It is confidently asserted by the German Professor Oberth, that in a short time mail will be sent by rocket from Berlin to New York by a single propulsion. This means that letters thus sent will arrive in New York about a half hour later. The matter is taken so seriously that the American ambassador to Germany was prompted to say: "I must call attention to the fact that our government will insist that life and property be not endangered by the rockets landing. I cannot say what guarantees would be required, but if Professor Oberth asks permission to shoot a rocket to America the state department must be informed." As the American ambassador, Mr. Schurman, is a man of broad intelligence, it may be assumed that his acceptance of the possibility of such a feat is not ridiculous.

Rockets are, seemingly, the newest toys and instruments of a scientific age which prefers to leave nothing to the imagination. Rocketeers will soon be joining racketeers to disturb our peace and to turn the incredible into the commonplace.

Discovered That Great German Flying Boat Fitted With Engines Of British Design

When the great German flying boat sailed over Lake Constance the other day with the record human load of 169 persons, the world of aviation properly hailed it for what it appeared to be—a new triumph in the air for Germany. But all the story was not told at once. Germany may not claim all the triumph. The great craft is fitted with twelve engines, 523 horsepower each, of the British Jupiter design, made in German workshops under British license.

Little, if anything, appears to have been said about these engines until an aviation critic in Great Britain came out with the warning that the night club owner her news, so she changed her course and mounted the familiar, shabby steps. The main room was dark and deserted, but Blackie was in his office. He glanced up as Grace entered.

Little Helps For This Week

"Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on Thee; because he trusteth in Thee."—Isaiah xxvii. 3.

Oh, this is blessing, this is rest! Into Thine arms, O Lord I flee; I hide me in Thy faithful breast, And pour out all my soul to Thee. O tenderness! O truth divine! Lord, I am altogether Thine. I have bowed down.—I need not fee, Peace, peace is mine in trusting Thee!—Anna Laetitia Waring.

Place your whole trust in the Lord; let Him alone be your fear and your love. He Himself will answer for you, and will do what is best for you. Here you have "No continuing city," and wherever you are you are a stranger and a pilgrim; nor will you ever rest until you are inwardly united to Christ.—Thomas A. Kempis.

Rifle Club's Turkey Shoot

The Annual Turkey shoot of the Stony Plain Rifle Club was held at the Range on the 9th inst., when upwards of 30 members shot off for the many fine birds which were on hand. Competition was keen, and it was necessary to shoot off many ties. A very fine lunch was served by Mrs McKinlay around the noon hour, which was done full justice to, by the cold and famished members. Everyone present voted the day a great success.

Here and There

A ship of heroes skippered by one of themselves was the unique feature of the sailing of the Duchess of York on a recent trip from Montreal. Six holders of the Victoria Cross, Britain's most envied and most meritorious of war awards, were on the vessel, which was under the command of Captain Stuart, himself a V.C. They were on their way from Canada to London to take part in the dinner by the Prince of Wales to the Victoria Cross men from all parts of the Empire, slated to be held November 5. Other V.C.'s travelled on Canadian Pacific liners Minnedosa and Empress of Scotland.

The stage is being rapidly set for some of the outstanding developments in Canada in a decade which the English Folk Dancers and exponents of English folk dancing will hold a festival at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, November 12-13. A British opera by a British composer of world-wide fame will be produced for the first time on this continent when "High the Drovers," by Dr. E. Vaughan Williams, is put on during the festival, and Canada and Canadians will be introduced to a whole new world of art and beauty.

"We are all primarily conscious of the fact that this country, measured by any of the yardsticks by which the prosperity of a nation can be gauged, is a very prosperous country, notwithstanding disturbed stock markets and a rather unusual grain situation, both of which are, we hope, temporary," said E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, at a dinner given recently in his honor by the St. Catharines Chamber of Commerce.

Robert Hume and George Thornton, veterans of many competitions, who teamed up from Manor, Saskatchewan, in the Canadian Pacific Swine Club competition for boys and girls of the province, have carried off the silver trophy and will join the teams from the western provinces for a trip to the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto as guests of the railway.

Bituminous sand deposits of the McMurray district and along the Athabasca River will eventually furnish the large quantities of material required for waterproofing and surfacing the gravel roads of the western provinces and in the opinion of Major C. Coolwood Golf Course, where the second annual Empire Hotel mid-winter golf tournament will be staged in February next, is one of the finest links on the continent, declared Walter Hagen, British open golf champion, who recently played an exhibition game there. "It is a tricky course that calls for the best in a player and the park-like surroundings are ideal," he added.

George Johnson, son of Henry Johnson, locomotive engineer of 32 years' standing with the Canadian Pacific Railway, has been awarded a scholarship for five years at L'Ecole Polytechnique of Montreal, following the recent examinations for entrance at that school. He is a resident of Three Rivers, Quebec. Three scholarships have been offered since 1906, since which year 45 opportunities for free tuition have been offered by the railway.

Auto Accident Near the Grove

Quite a bad run-in auto accident occurred on the Baseline east of the Grove, at the Ed Steffler corner, about six o'clock Saturday evening. Mr John Wetlauffer, accompanied by Mrs Wetlauffer, were returning from a motor trip to the City, and were about to pull into their gate on the south side of the road. Mr Wetlauffer had given the usual recognised signal, but had not reached the gate when his car was bumped into by an Oldsmobile with a West Virginia license No. 89144, driven by Mrs Cernowski. The lady driver admitted coming along at a fairly good rate of speed, and had not seen Mr Wetlauffer's hand signal, hence the run-in. Mr Cernowski, who was driving several head of horses along the trail, arrived on the scene, and when everything was explained to him, guaranteed the payment of Mr Wetlauffer's damage to his new Plymouth coach, which may amount to about $100. Mrs Cernowski is visiting with her father, Mr Seminauk, at Blueberry.
